David B. Goldstein is an award-winning poet, critic, food writer, and Associate Professor at York University in Toronto. His publications include the poetry collections Lost Originals (BookThug, 2016) and Laws of Rest (BookThug, 2013), and the monograph Eating and Ethics in Shakespeare’s England (Cambridge University Press, 2013). He is currently co-director of the Folger Shakespeare Library’s Mellon-funded research project “Before ‘Farm to Table’: Early Modern Foodways and Cultures.”

A Poetry Reading

by

David B. Goldstein
(York University)

Wednesday 7 November @ 2.30pm

room C-2059— 3150 rue Jean Brillant

Université de Montréal

DLMO, section études anglaises