

ANG1052 - English Grammar 1 A2022
Katrina Kaustinen

This course serves as a foundational basis to university-level classes in English. It will provide an overview of grammatical rules to enhance essay quality and advance linguistic comfort. Through an intermediate-level survey of critical grammatical issues, students will improve their written English in addition to their spoken communication, with an emphasis on verb tenses and complex sentences. In class, students will learn the intricacies of the English language through textbook readings, assignments, in-class discussions, and written exams. Participation is mandatory and active involvement in the course is essential.
